

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

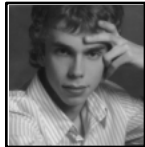

CONTACT: Todd Anawski,
HBASE Government Affairs & Education Director

2007 HBASE Scholarship Winners Announced

Sioux Falls, SD –The Education Committee of the Home Builder’s Association of the Sioux Empire (HBASE) has announced the selection of scholarship recipients for the 2007-2008 academic year. Winners will be attending a two or four year college and majoring in something relative to the building industry. Scholarship money is donated by the Sioux Empire Home Builder’s Care Foundation, a new charitable foundation in affiliation with the HBASE.

Daniel Amen of Canton is a graduate of Canton High School. He will be attending South Dakota State University in Brookings. Amen will major in Construction Management and intends to graduate in 2011 with a bachelor’s degree.

Bryce Bills of Sioux Falls is a graduate of Roosevelt High School. He will be attending South Dakota State University. Bills will major in Landscape Architecture. He plans to graduate in 2011 with a Bachelor’s Degree.

Matthew Klinkhammer of Canistota is a graduate of Canistota Public School. He will be attending Mitchell Tech, and will be majoring in Architectural Design and Building Construction. He intends to graduate in 2009 with an Associates Degree.

Ben Steineke of Sioux Falls is a graduate of Tri-Valley High School. He plans to attend Lake Area Tech and major in Building Trades. He will complete his education there in 2009.

Daniel Weber of Sioux Falls is a graduate O’Gorman High School. Weber plans to attend South Dakota State University and major in Construction Management. He plans to graduate in 2011 with a Bachelor’s Degree.